Welcome to Physiotherapy....

Hello...

This year College is entering in the 26th glorious year. On this occasion, we would like to say something about the College and Physiotherapy Profession.

“We are extremely pleased that you are considering Physiotherapy course of this College, managed by Shree Swaminarayan Manav Seva Trust. The said course is approved by the SNTD Women's University, Mumbai. Permission is granted by Government of Gujarat and also recognised by Gujarat State Council for Physiotherapy (GSCPT).”

The S.N.D.T. Women's University, Mumbai is well known for its Physiotherapy programme; not only, it is one of the most popular courses, but it is also one of the most popular places to study Physiotherapy. We believe that this popularity is based on our reputation for providing education within a supportive and nurturing environment, which not only develops the individual, but produces first-class Professional Physiotherapists.

Our reputation in this area is borne out of two philosophies which underpin our courses: All students accepted onto a course at SSPTC have the capability to succeed. We believe that our role is central to ensuring that this happens. We facilitate this by promoting open access to staff, ensuring that all students are part of our supportive personal tutoring system, and encouraging peer support and learning.

We believe in a Holistic Approach to working with others, whether they are patients, service users, which encompasses the Physical, Mental and Social aspects of healthcare, rehabilitation and wellbeing. You will be introduced to working in practice environments at an early stage of the programme. The Academic team work with practice-based educators who will ensure you gain a wide range of experiences.

We are extremely proud of our graduates and believe that they are a major factor in our continuing popularity; they are really a positive advert for what we seek to achieve. Significantly, they tend not to have difficulty obtaining employment, or to start their individual clinical setup.

We hope that you will consider visiting the college and applying to study with us at SSPTC.

LIFE BEGINS WITH PHYSIOTHERAPY....

Physiotherapy - A dynamic profession!

Physiotherapy, The Profession with Pride.....!

SINCE AGES FOR AGES serving mankind as drugless healers of pain, dysfunction and thereby improving quality of life.

“PHYSIOTHERAPY means Physiotherapeutic system of medicine which includes examination, treatment, advice and instruction to any person preparatory to of or the purpose of or in connection with movement dysfunction, bodily malfunction, physical disorder, disability, healing and pain from trauma and diseases, physical and mental conditions using physical agents including exercises, mobilization, manipulation, mechanical and electro therapy, activities and devices for diagnosis, treatment and prevention.” - Definition by the Indian Association of Physiotherapists(IAP).

What is Physiotherapy?

Physiotherapy is a patient-centred profession which aims at optimising quality of life. This includes promotion of a healthy life style, prevention of illness and injury for those at risk and rehabilitation following injury or impairment of function (disability). Physiotherapists are trained to assess patient and to use skilled manual techniques, exercise therapy and electrotherapy to reduce pain, promote healing and improve function. The holistic approach to management includes counselling which empowers the patient and caregiver to improve their quality of life. Service is offered to patients of all ages with conditions such as bronchitis, asthma, cerebral palsy, strokes, fractured bones, stiff joints, sports injuries and painful peripheral joints, necks and backs etc.

Physiotherapy as a career

Modern world with sedentary, mechanical life has realized that the ability to move is invaluable. Mobility is life, life is mobility, so there by physiotherapy has become as essential part of all health care services offered by faculty of modern medicine.

The physiotherapist is trained to work in many settings as a member of the health care team. This may be in patient/client homes, community centres, and hospitals; which includes outpatient clinics, wards and intensive care units. The Physiotherapy profession has primary contact status, which means that medical referral of clients is no longer required by law. This makes it possible to work and develop services in rural and urban settings, industry and as private practitioners.

There are career opportunities within areas of special interest, for example special schools, geriatric centres, industry and sports centres. Further expertise can be developed through continuing education, teaching within the profession and research. Now there are over 3.5 lakh registered physiotherapist globally. In India, the number is 75000 & growing.

The Physiotherapy Profession

Physiotherapy profession started as bud with certificate course burgeoned into huge tree now offering bachelors, masters, doctorals and post doctoral fellowship programs in various specializations like orthopaedics, neurology, sports, geriatrics and cardio vascular conditions, paediatrics, community based rehabilitation etc.

Physiotherapy is a health care profession, which involves patient evaluation through the administration of physical and/or extent of injury prior to the use of physical modalities for preventive and therapeutic purposes.

Physiotherapists perform tests to assess patients; joint motion (goniometry), strength and endurance of muscles (dynamometry), joint stability (arthrokinematics), walking (gait) pattern, functional ability (physical work capacity); function of the heart and lungs (cardiorespiratory fitness), integrity of sensation and perception (sensorimotor status), need and use of braces (orthosis and prosthesis), and performance of activities required in daily living.

The treatment commonly administered by Physiotherapists include the use of therapeutic exercise (to increase strength, endurance, co-ordination and range of joint motion), heat (infra-red radiation, short-wave and microwave diathermies), ultra-violet radiation, ice (cryotherapy), electricity (transcutaneous electrical stimulation), sound (ultrasound), water (hydrotherapy), direct current to introduce medicinal ions into the skin and mucous membranes (iontophoresis), manual therapy, electro-acupuncture and cold laser.

Physiotherapists also provide educational services to prevent the incidence of physical disability and movement dysfunction. During treatment, the Physiotherapist monitors the patient's performance and modifies the treatment plan in the light of patient's responses and goals.

Apart from these services, Physiotherapists engage in research to develop more effective treatment or methods of evaluation in order to improve patient care. Cognitive scientific knowledge is the flesh of physiotherapy; while psychomotor skills and affective traits constitutes the soul of physiotherapy profession. Researchers from several parts of the world including India are contributing immensely to our body of knowledge.

“WELCOME TO SSPTC PHYSIO FAMILY”

As long as there is an Existence of human being on the earth there will be need of Physiotherapy.

UNIVERSITY AT A GLANCE :

Genesis

The year 1896 marks the beginning of a new era in the history of women's education in India when Dr. Dhondo Keshav Karve established an ashram for widows and helpless women at Hingne, near Pune. He realized that to make these women self-sufficient, self-reliant and self-confident, schooling was essential at the ashram. Karve launched a programme of schooling at the ashram, which latter became regular school for girls and women. In a society governed by age old customs and conservative attitudes towards women, an institution of this type was bound to face social and economic difficulties. He had a dream of establishing women's university and his friends sent him a booklet on the Japanese women's university at Tokyo. In December 1915 Karve in his presidential address to the National Social Reform Congress at Bombay announced his decision to shape his dream into reality. And in 1916 the first college started with the enrollment of five students which gradually took shape as women's university. Karve did not wait for the Government permission for funds.....

The vision of Maharshi Karve and the foresight of Sir Vithaldas Thackersey led to the establishment of the first Women's University in India. Recognizing the pioneering work of Dr.Karve, Sir Vithaldas Thackersey made a generous contribution of Rs. 15 Lacs to commemorate the memory of his mother, Nathibai. In 1920 after the great benefactor's mother Nathibai, the University was named as Shreemati Nathibai Damodar Thackersey Women's University (S.N.D.T.).

In 1936, the head quarters of the University was shifted to Bombay. The University continued to grow, providing higher education to more and more women. In 1951, the University was granted statutory recognition and was renamed as Shreemati Nathibai Thackersey Women's University, now popularly known as SNDT Women's University. The recognition came along with the rare privilege of having a jurisdiction across the country.

Six year back, the SNDT University has celebrated Centenarial year. SNDT has become a symbol of excellence in higher educational opportunities for women. The journey has been a long one since 1916. There are three university campuses-two at Mumbai-Churchgate and Juhu and one at Karve Road, Pune.

Vision

The vision of Bharat Ratna Dr. D.K. Karve to build a citadel of learning for women is encapsulated in the motto of the University- 'Sanskrita Stree Parashakti' (An enlightened women is a source of infinite strength). For over almost a Century, the University has been striving for and growing to newer heights of performance and outreach.

Mission

Empowerment of women, through education, has been the single-minded mission of this University ever since its establishment. With socio-cultural changes and technological advances, the goals and objectives of the University are being continuously reinterpreted to make them relevant to the needs of women and in the context of prevailing needs of the society.

The mission statement of the University is:

SNDT Women's University is committed to the cause of women's empowerment through access to education, particularly higher education, through relevant courses in the formal and non formal streams. Further SNDT is committed to provide a wide range of professional and vocational courses for women to meet the changing socio-economic needs, with human values and purposeful social responsibility and to achieve excellence with Quality in every Activity."

Goals

The goals of the SNDT Women's University emerging from the Vision and Mission are:

- ☛ provide access to higher education for women through formal and non-formal streams including adult and continuing education.
- ☛ provide a wide range of professional and vocational courses for women to meet the socio-economic demands.
- ☛ develop scholarship and research in emerging areas of study, particularly with focus on women's perspectives.
- ☛ inculcate among women positive self-concept, awareness of women's issues and rights with a rational outlook towards society.
- ☛ enhance purposeful education with 'human values' and social responsibility by participating in outreach programmes.
- ☛ achieve excellence in the academic disciplines, research and extension activities through emphasis on 'quality in every activity'.

Degree courses(B.P.T) Bachelor Physiotherapy

Physiotherapy is one of the healthcare professions. A Physiotherapist aims to promote, restore and maintain an individual's physical, psychological and social wellbeing. The key is patient focus, tailoring treatments to the needs of the individual. Not only do Physiotherapists treat physically, they are also involved with health promotion and illness prevention. As a science-based profession, practitioners aim to evaluate their practice continually and add to the current body of knowledge in order to provide the best possible care for patients.

Physiotherapists treat an incredibly diverse range of patients. Within a hospital setting they may work in burns and plastics, healthcare of the elderly, maternity, mental health, neurology, orthopaedics, outpatients, paediatrics, palliative care, primary care or respiratory, to name just the most common areas. Physiotherapists may choose to work in the private sector or in alternative settings such as the armed forces, charities, health education, industry, management or sport. This wide variety makes physiotherapy an exciting profession in which there are always new challenges and possibilities for career development.

Two themes run throughout both courses; one covers the basic principles of research culminating in a research project, and the other includes aspects relating to personal and professional development such as skills for effective management of learning, communication, models of healthcare or sport, health and wellbeing policy, medical and client records/ethics, personality, behaviour and lifelong learning.

The courses end with an additional 6 months placement for which you can apply to work in any speciality anywhere in the world, providing you are supervised by an appropriate practitioner whose qualifications are recognised by the relevant statutory body, or competent authority.

Why study Physiotherapy at SSPTC?

Student satisfaction: SSPTC is committed to excellence in both teaching and research. We aim to promote an environment where you can flourish personally, academically and professionally, with the ultimate goal of becoming a practicing Physiotherapist.

Quality assurance: Student feedback forms an important part of our quality assurance programme and so we regularly ask students, through a variety of pathways, for their views on all aspects of the course. We evaluate the responses and act on them as appropriate, before closing the loop by feeding back to students.

Professional recognition: The Physiotherapy degree at SSPTC is recognised by GSCPT. On graduation students are eligible to apply for registration with the Gujarat State Council for Physiotherapy (GSCPT).

Dissertation / Project Work: Every student undertakes a project in their final year and internship. This can be a laboratory-based investigation, a survey, a clinical investigation, an educational development or a literature review. You will have a choice of topics and will be allocated a staff supervisor to guide you through the process. The project will allow you to demonstrate your ability to conduct a substantial piece of work and to manage and organise your time appropriately. We encourage students to publish their work or present at conferences.

How will I study? SSPTC is committed to student support. This not only includes pastoral care through the tutor group system, but extends to our philosophy of teaching and learning, where we believe in using a wide variety of teaching methods to deliver the subject in the most appropriate way.

Teaching And learning methods: First and second year of the course are taught in the similar fashion. Each week new topics of theory and practicals are introduced using a variety of methods including lectures; tutorials supported by online resources .students are having their own laptops.

Lectures: A lectures lasts about 60 minutes, it depends on topic and subject. Where appropriate, makes use of audio-visual material ,key texts and guest speakers.

Practicals and small group teaching sessions: These study sessions are mainly to improve hands on skill of the students. We do clinical teaching also .here we look in depth of the topic and explore related issues, enhance understanding and apply practice to the theory.

Clinical Teaching: Is integral part of teaching where faculty members teach students & show them different patients with different conditions and teach them regarding the condition, technique or approaches which can be given to patients. Apart from clinical training and topic in syllabus, extra equipment and new techniques are taught to the students.

Typical timetable: In year one and two you will be expected to attend theory and practical sessions every day and during third and final year Students have to attend clinical postings alongwith theory lectures and practicals. We regularly update and inform about next days teaching schedule in a closed facebook group and even we upload study material in the same group. Bringing Laptop and Net connectivity is must for all Students and they have to bring Laptop everyday to the College. Mobile phones are not allowed in the College Building.

A strong skill set: Throughout the course, you will work on the development of strong personal and interpersonal skills that are vital to any person seeking to work in a public-facing environment. You will be encouraged, through a variety of supportive learning experiences, to manage your own learning within both academic and clinical fields. You will learn to evaluate current beliefs and practice, and synthesise results in order to formulate and apply evidence-based programmes of Physiotherapy management.

Support and encouragement: In order to achieve our aims, we promote a challenging yet supportive and informal atmosphere within the division, where you will be actively encouraged to seek help from each other and the staff. Particular strengths of the course include the breadth of clinical experiences available and the element of choice evident throughout year five of the course. The support and encouragement we are able to offer as a small division have helped 100% of our graduates from the last five years to achieve a first or second class honours degree.

Library and computing services: At SSPTC, you will benefit from access to an extensive collection of printed and online resources. In addition, you will have both on and off-campus access to a wide range of databases, ejournals and ebooks, relevant both to your subject and any subsidiary modules in the subjects. Specialist physiotherapy and related texts are available.

"Studying physiotherapy at SSPTC has been great so far. The lecturers have so much time for you, and smaller teaching groups for practical sessions mean everyone has a chance to ask questions and learn at their own pace. The clinical skills sessions have been fantastic, getting the opportunity to practice on actors in a hospital setting means you are really prepared for placement!"

SSPTC global outreach: Many of the SSPTC Alumni are at USA, UK, CANADA, Australia & other countries for higher study and/or for practicing Physiotherapy.

SSPTC Tour: SSPTC educational tours are always most favorite among the students. Every year tour to the different parts of the India is organized .so far students had been to:
